Chief Executive Officer

Dear Sir/Madam,

We wish to introduce Keen Computer Solutions- the Engineering Company that has been involved in all aspects of information technology related to business- Hardware, Software, Solutions and Service- for three decades.

Our Network Management Solutions has been effective in reducing IT support cost by 80%. We design , host and maintain network management in our own cloud that enables such extraordinary saving and benefits to business like yours. In fact we have IT service and solutions that out perform traditional service providers in almost every aspect.

We would be happy to discuss possibilities with you and your in-house IT department. Such discussion is totally free and without any obligation. Please contact us for details.

Each member of Keen Computer Solutions has both formal education and industrial experience in the relevant domains, that is, Information Technology and , Application software Development in Cloud Computing. Such expertise are necessary in custom website and e-commerce solution development.

We look forward to working with you and remain committed to providing cost effective solutions that will be of value. We request you to include us as one of the suppliers of IT products and services, we will be happy to respond to your Tenders and RFP.
